

INTERAGENCY
HEADSTART
NETWORK

Parents, Did You Know?

Interagency Head Start Network is a group of Head Start agencies that have been working together since the 1980's. Our goal is that families across the Edmonton area can attend a Head Start program where they live. We work closely in your community with schools, doctors, health nurses, and others. The programs you may find in your community include: Half-day Head Start, Early Head Start, Aboriginal Head Start, Full-day Head Start, Resource Supports for Early Learning & Care and Francophone Head Start.

Here's What We've Done

Working together also means planning together. The group has a Community Response Plan which helps to:

- Get to know you and your community
- Let families and the community know about Head Start
- Share our common problems to look for answers
- Develop the best Head Start programs possible, working with you and your family.

How Can You Help?

Talk to us, share your ideas, tell your friends.